

HORSE HAS HIS DAY, BUT DOGS STEAL IT

Lifesaving Canines Head
Dobbins's Parade to Reviewing Stand.

J. J. TIMMS, DRIVER,
WINS $25 PRIZE

600 Awards Distributed Among
1,012 Entries—Veterans Get Much Applause.

"Well," neighed thirty-five-year-old Tom, dean of the old horses' division in the workhorse parade yesterday. "I always did say that the dog had a fatal weakness for getting into the limelight. Look at the nerve of those four canines, coming and grabbing the applause on the workhorse's one day, when they have a whole month of days every summer!"

Tom was a bit unfair, though. The four dogs marched at the head of the parade, but they didn't appear to care about doing it. They are lifesavers, and have been decorated by Mrs. James Speyer, president of the Women's League for Animals, by whose request they marched yesterday.

Jim, a splendid Great Dane, pulled his master, Dr. H. P. Galpin, a Sixth av. druggist, from a burning room in which he lay overcome by smoke fumes. Bum, a police dog, attached to the 15th Precinct, distinguished himself by dragging the blazing clothes from a little girl, victim of a bonfire. Tricksey, a Japanese spangle, saved his master, James Harcourt, of 42 Avenue P, Brooklyn, and the rest of the family by leaping on the mother's bed and scratching her face till she awoke to find the house in flames. Teddy, a huge black Newfoundland, his master, Olaf Hansen, said, "pulled two kiddies out of the Hudson in 1906."

Others on the reviewing stand were Fire Commissioner Robert Adamson and Mrs. Adamson, Commissioner John T. Fetherston of the Street Cleaning Department, Park Commissioner Cabot Ward, Dr. S. S. Goldwater, Commissioner of Health; William T. Hornaday, director of the Bronx Zoological Gardens, and Mrs. Hornaday, Mrs. James W. Wadsworth, Mrs. Charles R. Flint, Miss de Harill, B. F. Bush, president of the Missouri Pacific Railroad, Miss Emma Frohman, E. A. Seasmood, treasurer of the parade, and James Speyer.

The horses were judged in the side streets above Washington Square, and reached the reviewing stand at 10 a. m. There were 1,012 entries and more than 600 awards. The prize winning police horses each got a "first"—Shamrock, ridden by Lieutenant George Wood; Dart, Patrolman Lowry Mend's mount, and Praetor, Watercross, Shaw, Wilbur and Guy, ridden respectively by Patrolmen William T. McGrall, Edward C. Turner, Adolph Stoll, George J. Fuchner and John T. Klenzworth.

Three white fire horses sixteen-year-old Lightfoot, twelve-year-old Reporter and ten-year-old Evade, drew a heavy engine. Then came two horses drawing a tender, and three black horses from Company 12 pulling a hook and ladder truck.

Ambulance horses from the various city hospitals, and entries from the Street Cleaning Department, Park Department, the Department of Correction and the Department of Charities ended the municipal display, and then came the civilians. The great attraction was the old horses. Veteran drivers had a class by themselves. Dean of them all was the one who received the Esie de Wolfe prize of $25; John J. Timms, who has been twenty-one years in the service of James H. Dykeman, driving Baby and Pony, who are, respectively, twenty-nine and twenty-eight years old.

Mike, thirty years old, driven by Louis Flamboy, and Harry Boy, also thirty, driven by Charles Rothschild, got blue ribbons. A handsome prize winner was twenty-one-year-old Bob, driven by Samuel Lewis. Finest among the teams of old horses were Dutch and Fritz, nineteen years old each.

There was one pair of mules in the parade, Barney and Olive, owned by the Robert A. Keasby Company, and they got first prize for mules. There was also one goat, but he rode in a wagon, and a few their wives and children. A Chesterfield among them was William J. Donnelly, who, as he pulled up to receive his prize from Mrs. Speyer, lifted a black-eyed mite of a girl, and said formally: "My daughter, Rose Donnelly, five years old."

Some of the companies that had four-in-hands were the Bradley Contracting Company, E. Drexler and the Sheffield Farms Slaton-Decker Company.

It took one hundred and twenty judges two hours to decide the winners. The prizes were, $5, $2, $2.50 and $1. For veteran drivers there were, besides Miss de Wolfe's $25, prizes of $20, $15, $10 and $5.

ARREST PARENTS OF LONG MISSING GIRL

Newcastle, Ind., Authorities—Hold
Dr. Winters and Wife—Find Stained Sweater.

Newcastle, Ind., May 29.—Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Winters, father and stepmother of Catherine Winters, aged nine, who disappeared from her home here more than a year ago, were arrested on their arrival here from Terre Haute, Ind., to-day. They are charged with conspiracy to commit a felony. This makes three arrests in the case. W. H. Cooper, a former roomer in the Winters home, was arrested last night.

It was stated that the charge of conspiracy had been placed against the three merely to hold them, and that the charge might be changed later. Cooper's bond was placed at $5,000, which he was not able to furnish.

The amount of the bonds of Dr. and Mrs. Winters is to be fixed later.

W. R. Myers, County Prosecutor, said to-day that he would file affidavits against the three in the Circuit Court, and that a grand jury investigation would be begun immediately.

Police officers and the private detectives employed by Mayor Watkins began to-day to dig up the floor of the cellar in the Winters home, with the hope, as they expressed it, of finding either the body of the girl or evidence of how the body had been disposed of.

A search of the cellar revealed a hair ribbon, a red sweater, and red-stained undergarment which had belonged to the girl. Mrs. Winters said, when questioned to-day, that the girl had worn a sweater on the day of her disappearance.

Little Catherine disappeared on March 29, 1912. The child had been canvassing the neighborhood in which she lived, trying to sell needles for a church society. She was last seen late in the afternoon. The police were not notified until the next day.

Catherine is the daughter of Dr. Winters and his first wife, who died several years ago. The child inherited $2,000 on her mother's death.

TRAIN NAP WAS COSTLY Doctor and Tailor Bills for Man Who Jumped Off.

George Neibergall, of 8 Rutland Road, Flatbush, took an early train to Poughkeepsie yesterday, and tried to make up sleep on the way. He did not awake until the conductor asked for his fare after leaving Yassav village.

Fast mail trains do not stop for sleeping passengers, but there's nothing to prevent one from getting off if he desires. That's what Neibergall did—followed his heavy grip into a cloud of dust, and was found dazed and bleeding at the bottom of the railroad embankment. Though not whole, he was only five miles from his destination. He walked back, and a physician and a tailor patched him up.

PRINCETON SENIORS' SOULS TURNED INSIDE OUT BY VOTE

Class Ballots Tell Who's Who and Who Thinks He Is—
H. A. H. Baker and G. F. Phillips Get Cherished
Honors—McClellan Favorite Professor.

Princeton, N. J., May 29.—Six of the most cherished honors annually distributed by vote of the Princeton senior class have been accorded this year to Hobart A. H. Baker, of Manayunk, Penn., according to a partial list of the senior statistics published to-day.

Baker, who was football captain last fall, was elected the "man who has done most for Princeton," best football player, best hockey player, best all-round athlete, the man who has done most for the class in athletics and the best developed physically.

Hardly less honor was paid to George F. Phillips, of Newark, president of the class. He was elected the best all-round man in the class, the most popular, the man who has done most for the class generally, and he tied with R. B. Nesbitt, of Tunnell, Penn., for the most respected man in the class besides being tied with B. Douglas, of Chattanooga, for the most serious man.

The usual tribute was paid to Princeton's dearest rival in athletics by voting Yale the favorite man's college next to Princeton, while Smith won the choice as favorite girl's college.

Professor George B. McClellan, ex-Mayor of New York, was voted the favorite professor. He is now occupying the chair of economic history in Princeton.

Among others to take the most coveted honors were J. M. Colt, of Baltimore, who was elected the man who has done most for the class outside of athletics and the busiest man in the class, and G. C. McKown, of Martinsburg, W. Va., who was selected as the man most likely to succeed.

Other statistics gained range from the serious to the jocose. Some of them follow:

Developed most socially, J. H. Legendre, New Orleans; thinks he is, C. A. Potter, Philadelphia; handsomest, E. B. Kiner, New York; prettiest, E. Muller, Lexington, Ky.; best baseball player, E. K. Rhodes, New York; best track athlete, Torrance Fluke, Minneapolis; best basketball player, J. B. Schmidt, Naugatuck, Conn.; best gymnast, W. J. Wolff, New York; best tennis player, W. S. Kuhn, Pittsburgh; busiest man, J. H. Colt; best debater, C. F. Tausch, Wapakoneta, Ohio; best orator, J. C. Adler, Chattanooga, Tenn.; best musician, C. G. Vardell, Red Springs, N. C.

Most knock-kneed, R. N. L. Church, New York; finest legs, J. H. Legendre; hungriest man, W. N. Wood, Birdwood, Va.; most awkward, G. M. Billings, Brooklyn; worst pole, John C. Vroman, Manzanola, Colo.; biggest drag with faculty, H. R. Pyne, New York; needs it the most, G. N. Collins, Philadelphia; brightest man, Charles Dunn; cleverest, J. B. Pitney, Morristown; wittiest, J. B. Pitney; thinks he is, A. C. M. Azoy, East Orange; most desperate funder, the between T. Emmons, of Princeton, and J. H. Legendre.

Most polite, H. J. Boldt, Jr., New York; thinks he is, H. J. Boldt; best natured, K. C. Thomas, of Interlaken, N. J.; best read, R. S. Ingersoll, Philadelphia; biggest bluffer, J. E. Andrews, Chicago; most confident, A. C. M. Azoy; most likely to be first benedict, F. H. Winants, Bayonne, N. J.; best dressed, J. H. Boyd, Harrisburg, Pa.; thinks he is, tie between W. F. Reeve, 2d, Moorestown, N. J., and C. A. Potter.

Best built by tailor, S. Parker, Boston; best built by Nature, J. H. Legendre;

3 INJURED BY FARGO AUTO

Express Man's Car Hits Motorcycle at Katonah.

Two men and a woman were badly hurt when an automobile owned by J. C. Fargo, the express company director, whose summer place is at Katonah, demolished a motorcycle in a collision at Katonah yesterday.

Elsworth Marsh, on the motorcycle, failed to see the Fargo car as he emerged from a crossroad. In the car were James Towey, chauffeur, and Miss Anna Gary, housekeeper for Mr. Fargo.

Marsh was knocked under the car and dragged until it climbed a bank and turned over. Both occupants were imprisoned underneath until Policeman Wade got them out.

Marsh's left leg was crushed. Miss Gary was severely cut and Towey was injured internally. There being no hospital near, Dr. Briggs removed them to their homes.

WANT AERIAL REAL ESTATE

C. L. Von Fossen Thus Impressed by Trip in Flying Boat.

Charles L. Von Fossen, of Dobbs Ferry, president of the Hastings Home Company, made a flight with Ralph M. Brown in his flying boat yesterday. Mr. Von Fossen said that if there was only an estate for sale above the clouds he would take an option on it at once, just for the joy of reaching it in a flying machine.

It was Mr. Von Fossen's first flight, and Brown took him to a height of more than 2,000 feet and then volplaned to the surface of the Hudson. The real estate man said it was the most delightful half-hour he had ever spent.

14 TEACHERS SAIL TO STUDY PEACE

Will Visit Four South American Countries at Carnegie Fund's Expense.

Fourteen members of the Pan-American division of the American Association of International Conciliation sailed for South America yesterday to study governments, and conditions. The party were passengers on the Vandyck, of the Lamport and Holt Line, and were headed by Professor Harry Erwin Bard, of Columbia University. The expenses of the trip will be paid by the Carnegie fund for peace promotion.

The association already has branches established in Brazil, Argentina, Chile and Peru, and all of those countries will be visited with the aim of promoting closer intellectual relations between them and the United States.

The peace promoters included Percy Bently Burnett, Manual Training High School, Kansas City; John Driscoll, Reginald R. Goodell, Simmons College, Boston; Chester Lloyd Jones, University of Wisconsin; William H. Kilpatrick, Columbia; Farroll Bliss Luquens, Yale; Lew Norrell Marshall, University of Chicago; William Thomas Morrey, Rushwick High School, Brooklyn; Edmund Persinger, University of Nebraska; Edward G. Snider, College of the City of New York; Allen H. Willet, Carnegie Institute of Technology, and Garibaldi Laguardia, secretary to the director.

After visiting the west coast of South America the peace professors will go through the Panama Canal and return to New York by the end of August.

Engine Wrecked; Driver Hurt.

Fire Engine No. 5 of the Jersey City department was wrecked yesterday, and the driver, John Connell, so badly injured that he was removed to St. Francis Hospital. There is a depression in Grove st. under the Erie tracks, and in going down the steep grade the engine was overturned.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT
An Autobiography

"The one Book that should be in every American Home."

Fascinating to a degree, vital, electric, from the first page to the last, every one who opens this book reads on with intense and increasing interest.

Illustrating the possibilities of American life, it is impossible to find anything in literature surpassing, or for that matter, equalling, this record of experiences, reactions and events as our great ex-President saw, thought and lived them.

No man has ever been better qualified by individual equipment and close identification with the nation's public life during recent decades to adequately and picturesquely portray its more important phases. Richly personal and intimate, this book is an American's story of events through and through.

Extremely instructive in its running comments on well-known men and significant affairs of state, no one can read it without tingling responsive to the inspiration of its noble sentiments and honest convictions marked by the virile ring of sincerity, and all told in terse, easily flowing, readable language.
